PERSONAL LINES

Personal Lines Coverages provide the cornerstone of many Property and Casualty agencies. Perhaps it is because personal lines are so central to our daily business that we sometimes begin to take them for granted. This could be a strategic and financial mistake. Most professional agents realize that the responsibility for insuring the "average homeowner" is getting more complex everyday.

At the CIC Personal Lines Institute, you will learn how to properly handle the complicated accounts as well as the simpler ones. You will feel more confident that the policies you have in place are those that the client really needs. Most importantly, your clients will become comfortable when they realize they are working with a professional. Consider the sequence experienced by many CIC students: Education leads to knowledge; knowledge leads to competence and credibility; competence leads to larger cases; and larger cases equal more commission income. Begin now to outpace your competitors and create winning strategies for your clients.

HOTEL RESERVATIONS

A list of AIIA recommended hotels is available on our website. To obtain the list, go to www.aiaa.org and click on "Education" and then "AIIA Recommended Hotels".

The price for single or double accommodations will vary depending on the hotel.

WHAT IS CIC?

The Society of Certified Insurance Counselors (CIC) is a not-for-profit organization providing educational opportunities to help professionals succeed in the insurance industry. The five CIC institutes were developed as a dependable source of specific insurance knowledge for all industry professionals, with direct application to the realities of daily work. The CIC Program works toward strengthening the connections between business goals, insurance expertise, and the human elements involved in getting the job done. Each institute includes two and one-half days of classroom instruction, followed by an optional examination.

ELIGIBILITY AND IDENTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

For an individual to attend an institute and/or sit for the examination, he or she must: be licensed as an agent, broker, or solicitor; or have at least two years of full time experience as a practitioner in insurance or risk management; or have served at least two years as a full-time insurance faculty member at an accredited college or university.

All participants must present photo identification to the on-site registrar at the institute.
